ROBERT L. MARR
PRESIDENT

Robert L. "Bob" Marr assumed the administrative leadership of the New England Patriots on April 9, 1974 when the club's Board of Directors elected him to the post of President and Chief Executive Officer. At 38 years of age, he became the youngest active club president in the American Conference and one of the youngest chief executive's in the history of the National Football League.

Bob is the son of the late Daniel F. Marr, Sr., who was one of the Patriots original owners. The beloved "Colonel", as he was known to his multitude of friends, played a vital role in the growth of the organization until his untimely death in 1969. Bob is the brother of Daniel F. Marr, Jr., who also serves on the club's Board of Directors and is a long-time member of the Executive Committee.

Though keenly involved with the team since its inception in 1960, the Patriot's president was not officially elected to a position on the club's Board of Directors until 1969, served as a key member on the Finance Committee since its inception.

Bob was born and raised in the Dorchester section of Boston. He received his high school education at Cranwell Preparatory School in Lenox, Mass. At Cranwell he played varsity basketball and was quarterback on the football squad.

He graduated Cum Laude from the University of Notre Dame in 1958 with a degree in Business Administration. While at South Bend, Bob served as President of the New England Club of Notre Dame for two years.

The Patriots president served with the United States Navy from 1958 to 1960 as a Lt. (jg) at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Illinois.

Following his discharge from military service, he returned to Boston to join with his brother, Dan, as fourth generation members of the family construction business, the Marr Companies, then headed by their late father.

Away from the Patriots, Bob is President of the Marr Scaffolding Company, Marr Equipment Corp, and the Colonel Daniel Marr Boys' Club of Dorchester. He is a trustee of the New England Medical Center Hospital and a member of the Boston Zoning Commission. He is a past president of both the Massachusetts Building Congress and the Notre Dame Club of Boston.

Shortly after being named the youngest club president in the American Conference of the NFL, Bob was elected the youngest Captain Commander of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. of Massachusetts which is the oldest military organization in the western hemisphere.

CHUCK FAIRBANKS

GENERAL MANAGER AND HEAD COACH

Charles Leo "Chuck" Fairbanks became the sixth in a line of Patriots' head coaches when he joined the organization in the dual capacity of general manager-head coach on January 26, 1973.

Coach Fairbanks came to the Patriots from a remarkably successful career as a college football coach during which he led Oklahoma to a fantastic 52-15-1 record over six years. Prior to his term with the Sooners, his coaching career had run the full cycle all the way from high school ranks, and has now spanned nearly two decades.

At 42 years of age, he ranks as the second youngest head coach in the National Football League.

Since assuming control of the helm of the Patriots forces, coach Fairbanks more than lived up to the reputation that preceded him to New England — strong organizer, promotes the image of oneness among his charges, strives for solidarity and believes in esprit de corps.

Coach Fairbanks looks back on his first season as, "a good starting year for us." In 1974 he feels his charges started to believe they could win. Looking ahead to 1975 he would like the team motto to be that now we should expect to win.

Coach Fairbanks was born in Detroit on June 10, 1933 and was educated at Charlevoix (Mich.) High School and Michigan State ('55). An all-State end in high school, he played under Biggie Munn with the Spartans' 1952 national champion team and the '53 Big Ten champs who defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl. He finished off his collegiate career under Duffy Daugherty and earned a berth in the Blue-Gray all-star classic.

He launched his coaching career in 1955 as a student assistant at Michigan State's spring drills. His first head coaching assignment was at Ishpeming (Mich) High School, 1955-57, and he moved to the collegiate ranks under Frank Kush at Arizona State where he served as defensive backfield coach from 1958-61. From 1962 to 64 he was backfield coach at Houston and in '65 he was named assistant head coach under Bill Yeoman. The following year he became defensive backfield coach at Oklahoma and took over the top post in 1967.

SCHAEFER STADIUM

Schaefer Stadium was built at the cost of $6.7 million and financed through the private sale of more than 400,000 shares of stock in Stadium Realty Trust. The official ground breaking ceremony took place on Sept. 23, 1970, and 326 days later (Aug. 15, 1971) the first game was played at the new Foxboro facility in which the Patriots posted a 20-14 victory over the New York Giants before 60,423 fans.

With space to park 16,000 automobiles surrounding the stadium, the site covers an area of 15 acres and is as long as it is wide, 700 feet. In the process of excavating the bowl shape for the stadium, 250,000 cubic yards of earth were removed from the 35-feet deep hole. The J. F. White Construction Co. then used 15,000 cubic yards of concrete and 660 tons of steel to erect the stadium.

The playing surface required 75,000 square feet of Poly-Turf weighing 600 pounds and spread over an asphalt bed and shock pad. Lighting is provided by three towers with 324 mercury lamps (1500 watts per); 200 candle power per square foot on the playing field.

Seating is constructed of aluminum with a capacity of 61,279. There are 5604 special box (chairs) seats, 48,710 seats on the sidelines, and 6965 end zone seats.

Through the 1974 season there have been 40 pre-season and regular season games played in Schaefer Stadium. A total of 2,199,261 fans (54,982 per game) have watched the Patriots games at Schaefer Stadium.

PATRIOTS SCHEDULE 1976-1978

Dates and playing sites are still to be established, but the Patriots opposition has been charted through 1978.

In addition to home-and-home meetings with AFC-Eastern Division rivals Baltimore, Buffalo, Miami and New York Jets, the Patriots can look forward to the following competition:

1976: AFC — Pittsburgh, Denver, Oakland.
NFC — Detroit, Washington, New Orleans.
1977: AFC — Cleveland, Kansas City, San Diego.
NFC — Green Bay, Philadelphia, Atlanta.
1978: AFC — Cincinnati, Houston, Denver.
NFC — Chicago, New York Giants, Los Angeles.

WBZ AND THE PATRIOTS

The New England Patriots and WBZ will have a total relationship during the 1975 season. As usual, all 20 Patriots games will be aired over WBZ radio and its network of more than a dozen stations scattered throughout New England with Gil Santos (play-by-play) and Gino Cappelletti (color commentary). In addition, all six Patriots pre-season games will be televised via WBZ-TV (Channel 4) which will also present a half hour Patriots Highlights show every Sunday afternoon throughout the regular season.

ALL THE GOOD SPORTS ARE ON WBZ.

Once again this year, WBZ has the heaviest sports lineup in town. We've got Gil Santos and Gino Cappelletti covering the Patriots and Boston College Eagles football.

We've got Bob Wilson doing the play-by-play for the Bruins and Johnny Most calling the shots for the Celtics.

No wonder so many people turn to Radio 103. It's the sporting thing to do.
